OLANTA SOLDIER ON WAY TO CAMP

James Hilton, a husky young soldier from Olanta was in town this morning and called on District Attorney Walter Welch for legal advice before leaving out of a difficulty he was in with the war department. Young Hilton enlisted as a member of Co. B, Sixth Pa. N. G. P. last year while working at Chester and accompanied his regiment to the border. Following the return from the border the company disbanded and leaving Chester came back home to Olanta. When war was declared and the guard ordered out a notice to report was mailed to the young man at LaJose, Pa., but as he was unknown the letter was undelivered.

Yesterday he received a notice from Governor's island to the effect that he had been listed for failure to report and was subject to arrest. He came down to see the district attorney regarding the law in the case and was given official O. K. to his story and sent on his way rejoicing to join his company.

MITCHELL CHASE HOME

J. Mitchell Chase, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Chase, of Fourth street, arrived home last evening from Madison Barracks at Watertown, N. Y., where he had been in training for the past two months in the hope of winning a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the artillery branch of the regular army. He happened to be one of the younger men at the training camp and for that reason was denied the coveted commission. He reports a delightful and interesting experience, well worth the effort, although naturally greatly disappointed at his failure to win out.

Old Dr. Stork left a fine big boy baby at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Witherow of Lawrence township on Monday last. Mr. and Mrs. Witherow recently gave their eldest son, Jimmy, aged 20 years, as a recruit for the U. S. navy and are overjoyed at the arrival of this young soldier. Wife Beater Turn Double Barreled Shotgun on Domestic Pacifier Who Was Called For Aid

If, as has long been generally admitted, that "war is hell," Hyde City had "hell" in no small measure yesterday afternoon. For some time Mrs. Andy Compel, of Hyde, has been complaining to Desorption Court Probation Officer Stock that her Andy was in the habit of beating her. Whenever he felt the least bit peevish, he would make all out of her eyes for a while. When he decided Andy had performed enough Mr. Stock told the woman that on the very next occasion when appearing in court, she should call Andy "got on his muscle" to beat it up and then call for a warrant from the court. The decision was given to come down and get a warrant from the court. The poor woman escaped from her battering she complied with the desirer's order. When he returned, he called Mr. Stock immediately. When the judge heard of the couple he hid himself to Hyde. He arrived at the job too soon as the angry husband had not succeeded in beating his wife sufficient to satisfy his belated feelings with the result that the officer was just in time to get a warm reception.

Russian Women Among Dead In Last Battle

Legion of Death Loses Five in Yesterday's Trench Warfare

By William G. Shepherd
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Petrograd, July 26—Russian women have laid down their lives on the battle field of democracy. The women on the Vilna front have fought and died in the face of the enemy.

For the first time in the history of the great world war casualties, the injury and death of women fighting in the trenches has been reported. Five women of the "Legion of Death" in this engagement were killed when they, armed, met in battle the invaders of their country.

The "Legion of Death" left Petrograd two weeks ago. They entrained amid the tears of the friends and families like veterans. The girls were of Russia's best families, of the families of social financial and influential leaders. Most of them were students at the university. They declared they would do or die for Russia.

LETTER FROM LEROY FINK

Syracuse, New York, July 21, 1917.

Dear Mother:
I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. I am feeling fine and sure do like the army life.
We have great times in our drills. Today we were instructed in how to make bayonet charges, the way they do in Europe. There is a great difference in their way and ours, so we are going to earn both ways and when we get there you let there will be something doing. We started to dig trenches today, too. They are about five feet deep and three feet wide and run zig zag across a ten acre field. It is pretty warm up here and has not rained for two days.

I was just up to Co. H, to see a Clearfield boy by the name of Evans, and he gave me some Clearfield papers. In one of them I found a poem written by George A. Bell, of the 19th Infantry, Co. H, stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. This poem would give anybody who read it a full description of army life. One verse read like this:

Then they start some argument,
About women, cards and booze,
Till some one gets disgruntled
And starts to firing shoes.
Now that is very true.
Well I will close for this time, as today is inspection and you have to have your equipment looking like new. With love to all from your loving son

His Name Was Compel But Wouldn't Stand For Being Compelled

Wife Beater Turn Double Barreled Shotgun on Domestic Pacifier Who Was Called For Aid

Stock pointed out Andy and proceeded to tell him in two words what he thought of him. As he had opinions of his own, too, and he forthwith voiced them in no uncertain tones, and reaching for a convenient double barreled shot gun, he had the one, "double barreled shot" in a stepping it toward town. The district officer called Andy "Kongrat" and when he decided Andy had performed enough Mr. Stock told the woman that on the very next occasion when appearing in court, she should call Andy "got on his muscle" to beat it up and then call for a warrant from the court. The decision was given to come down and get a warrant from the court. The poor woman escaped from her battering she complied with the desirer's order. When he returned, he called Mr. Stock immediately. When the judge heard of the couple he hid himself to Hyde. He arrived at the job too soon as the angry husband had not succeeded in beating his wife sufficient to satisfy his belated feelings with the result that the officer was just in time to get a warm reception.

DEMORALIZED RUSSIA

While it is impossible not to take a pessimistic view of the Russian situation, it is easy to see how perfectly it reconciles itself to the philosophy of history. Revolutions, least of all our own, do not settle themselves in a few weeks, nor is stable government restored until the people have learnt that democracy also means obedience, even if it is that more spiritual obedience which is due to the common interest and the common liberty.

It may be years before a leadership emerges in Russia strong enough to unify the country in its old form; and it may be that a process of disintegration will set in among its many races which by no means logically involves future federalism. Germany had two lines of conquest open to her at the beginning of the war. One was toward the British Channel, involving Belgium and northern France, with a political dominance over Holland. The other was to the Euphrates Valley. The Russian revolutionists have provided her with a third objective, which is central and northern Russia. Unless these leaders can instill a different spirit into their armies, the path of conquest is wide open.

Socialism always falls down in this way because while it contemplates popular rule, each individual imagines that he has as good a right as anybody to be the ruler. He would probably not be a Socialist if he had learnt that before successful rulership is possible he must know how to obey. If this is true in a civil sense it is trebly true in a military sense. Obedience is the essence of military strength and the moment it fails, the military machine goes to pieces.

What happened in the regiments which turned tail in Galicia is easy to explain. Every man distrusted the man next to him and was afraid that he would run away. Least of all did he trust his officers, while every regiment feared that it would not be supported by the regiment on its flank. The demoralizing idea which this engenders is that the first to run will have the best of it. The result as we see was a retreat degenerating into a rout before an inferior force, and the elimination of the Russian offensive for this year's campaign at least.

All the training of the soldier is directed to making him see that it is incomparably safer to fight than to run away. When once this discipline is lost only reconstruction of an army and training from the beginning can restore it. The British did so in Egypt, "making riflemen from mud," and it took them years to do. The regeneration of the Russian army is a task for the greatest organizing genius the world ever saw, and there is no such genius in sight.—Wall Street Journal.

BEEKEEPERS ATTENTION

The Department of Agriculture thru the direction of Economic Zoologist J. G. Santer, has arranged to conduct a big round up meeting for beekeepers at the home of Mr. A. M. Applegate in Reynoldsville on Wednesday, August 1st.

Many will remember the good times at former field days held with the Applegates, whose hospitality is unbounded and unfailing.

The meeting will open at 10:30 a. m.

A good program is provided. Dr. E. F. Phillips, Washington, D. C., Mr. E. R. Root, Medina, Ohio and Prof. J. G. Santer and Prof. H. C. Klinger, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers' association, are expected to be present. Geo. H. Ren, Chief Apiary Advisor, Harrisburg, will have charge.

A picnic dinner will be spread, come and bring your baskets well filled.

If proper arrangements can be made, a moving picture show on beekeeping will be given in the evening.

The general public, and especially those interested in Educational Work are cordially invited to attend.

The Seven County Beekeepers' association will be organized and officers elected in the afternoon session.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS OPTIMISTIC ON RUSSIA

Washington, July 25.—The government and the Russian embassy today joined efforts in throwing a glow over the war situation. Members of President Wilson's cabinet including Secretary Baker and Redfield continued that the conditions on the western front in Europe were such as not to cause alarm or dismay in the United States. Redfield said that reports from army officers returning from France were most encouraging.

In the near future prices are bound to go higher than they are at present and such savings as you can make during this mammoth July Clearance are worth even more than shows up on the face of them.

We have gathered the men's suits into four lots and placed price marks on them that are so far below the real values of the suits that it sounds too good to be true. The suits must go, however, and you can make the saving.

LOT NO. 1

Thirty young men's suits in different shades such as gray, brown and other colors of chevot. They are well made and are all wool. They are worth $12.00 but the Clearance price is $6.95

DOROTHY GISH LIVELY WARD OF TRUST COMPANY IN TRIANGLE PHOTOPLAY

Special At The Tent:
 A spirited young woman whose guardian is an entire trust company, to which she must render account of every expenditure, however small, is the part played by Dorothy Gish in the new Triangle-Fine Arts Photoplay "Her Official Fathers," which will be featured at the Tent Friday.

On one occasion the determined young lady engages in a hot argument with the bank's vice president concerning a pair of silk stockings which she claims to need desperately, though her wardrobe contains some twenty pairs to match each of her suits and gowns. Before gaining her demand she starts a run on the bank, alarming the passersby with her frantic shouts of "I want my money!"

Miss Gish wears bewitching clothes through the scenes that include her roguish activities at a boarding school her flirtatious beguilement of two greedy bank officials, both of whom she has promised to marry, and her denunciation of them on her eighteenth birthday, when she assumes charge of the fortune left by her father to the company's care.

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder.

where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; gain, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

OLANTA SOLDIER ON WAY TO CAMP

James Hilton, a husky young soldier from Olanta was in town this morning and called on District Attorney Walter Welch for legal advice leaving out of a difficulty he was in with the war department.
Young Hilton enlisted as a member of Co. B, Sixth Pa. N. G. P. last year while working at Chester and accompanied his regiment to the border. Following the return from the border the company disbanded and leaving Chester came back home to Olanta. When war was declared and the guard ordered out a notice to report was mailed to the young man at LaJose, Pa., but as he was unknown the letter was undelivered.

Yesterday he received a notice from Governor's island to the effect that he had been listed for failure to report and was subject to arrest. He came down to see the district attorney regarding the law in the case and was given official O. K. to his story and sent on his way rejoicing to join his company.

James Hilton, a husky young soldier from Olanta was in town this morning and called on District Attorney Walter Welch for legal advice leaving out of a difficulty he was in with the war department.
Young Hilton enlisted as a member of Co. B, Sixth Pa. N. G. P. last year while working at Chester and accompanied his regiment to the border. Following the return from the border the company disbanded and leaving Chester came back home to Olanta. When war was declared and the guard ordered out a notice to report was mailed to the young man at LaJose, Pa., but as he was unknown the letter was undelivered.

Yesterday he received a notice from Governor's island to the effect that he had been listed for failure to report and was subject to arrest. He came down to see the district attorney regarding the law in the case and was given official O. K. to his story and sent on his way rejoicing to join his company.

MITCHELL CHASE HOME

J. Mitchell Chase, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Chase, of Fourth street, arrived home last evening from Madison Barracks at Watertown, N. Y., where he had been in training for the past two months in the hope of winning a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the artillery branch of the regular army. He happened to be one of the younger men at the training camp and for that reason was denied the coveted commission. He reports a delightful and interesting experience, well worth the effort, although naturally greatly disappointed at his failure to win out.

SIAM SIEZES ALL INTERNED STEAMERS

(By United Press)
Bangkok, Siam July 26—Siam seized all Austro-German steamers in her harbors today. It is the first step after her rupture with the Central Powers. Every ship was found to be damaged. All enemy aliens will be interned and all business firms in which Teutons are concerned will be closed up.

Russian Women Among Dead In Last Battle

Legion of Death Loses Five in Yesterday's Trench Warfare

By William G. Shepherd
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Petrograd, July 26—Russian women have laid down their lives on the battle field of democracy. The women on the Vilna front have fought and died in the face of the enemy.

For the first time in the history of the great world war casualties, the injury and death of women fighting in the trenches has been reported. Five women of the "Legion of Death" in this engagement were killed when they, armed, met in battle the invaders of their country.

The "Legion of Death" left Petrograd two weeks ago. They entrained amid the tears of the friends and families like veterans. The girls were of Russia's best families, of the families of social financial and influential leaders. Most of them were students at the university. They declared they would do or die for Russia.

LETTER FROM LEROY FINK

Syracuse, New York, July 21, 1917.

Dear Mother:
I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. I am feeling fine and sure do like the army life.

We have great times in our drills. Today we were instructed in how to make bayonet charges, the way they do in Europe. There is a great difference in their way and ours, so we are going to learn both ways and when we get there you let there will be something doing. We started to dig trenches today, too. They are about five feet deep and three feet wide and run zig zag across a ten acre field. It is pretty warm up here and has not rained for two days.

I was just up to Co. H, to see a Clearfield boy by the name of Evans, and he gave me some Clearfield papers. In one of them I found a poem written by George A. Bell, of the 19th Infantry, Co. H, stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. This poem would give anybody who read it a full description of army life. One verse read like this:

Then they start some argument,
About women, cards and booze,
Till some one gets disgruntled
And starts to firing shoes.
Now that is very true.

Well I will close for this time, as today is inspection and you have to have your equipment looking like new. With love to all from your loving son

LEROY FINK

Old Dr. Stork left a fine big boy baby at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Witherow of Lawrence township on Monday last. Mr. and Mrs. Witherow recently gave their eldest son, Jimmy, aged 20 years, as a recruit for the U. S. navy and are overjoyed at the arrival of this young soldier. "Daddy" Witherow who is a Spanish American war veteran, is figuring on calling the new arrival after "General Pershing."

There are now 25 dry states according to Senate leaders. The drys will have to get 11 more states in the six years. If the wets can hold 13 states, one more than 1-4, the amendment will be lost. The decision to vote so soon on the prohibition amendment is significant in view of an effort to have such an amendment cleared from the food bill—the Smoot amendment requesting President Wilson to purchase bonded liquors.

If, as has long been generally admitted, that "war is hell," Hyde City had "hell" in no small measure yesterday afternoon. For some time Mrs. Andy Compel, of Hyde, has been complaining to Desorption Court Probation Officer Stock that her Andy was in the habit of beating her. She called Andy "Compel" and "Compel" made all out of her eyes for arbitration. When he decided Andy had performed enough Mr. Stock told the woman that on the very next occasion when appearing in court, Andy "got on his muscle" to beat it up doing for Andy. Compel was to the nearest telephone, call him and he would be up and settle with the wife beater.

Andy ran amuck yesterday and affing and then called on the good officer the poor woman escaped from his clutches. Andy called the name of Fort

ALIENS LIKELY INCLUDED IN OUR ARMY

McCumber Resolution Will Make All Liable For Military Service Under Draft Regulations

BE UNFAIR TO EXCLUDE THEM

By Webb Miller
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 26—The United States today is negotiating with the allies relative to bringing into the army hundreds of aliens. Abrogation of treaties affecting the aliens in this country will be asked for and action by congress will probably be taken under the draft law. Thousands of telegrams against the injustice of the present law relative to aliens exemption from the army in this country is flooding the department at Washington.

The McCumber resolution to draft aliens is today before the subcommittee of the Senate Foreign relations committee. Under this resolution aliens may be drafted. The war department has approved this resolution but the state department has pointed out that diplomatic relations and the affairs of the country prevents such a move. The allies are expected to accede to the request of the United States but whether they do or not congress may be called upon to act.

Senate Prohibition Vote on Wednesday

Wets And Drys Reach Agreement Calling For Early Disposal

(By United Press)
Washington, July 26—The Senate vote on the national prohibition amendment will be taken at four o'clock next Wednesday according to private agreement reached by the wets and drys today. The debate on the amendment is to begin Tuesday. The amendment provides that if 36 states do not ratify the amendment in six years it will die.

To be put up to the state legislature a constitutional amendment requires a 2-3 majority of the House and Senate. Then 3-4 of the states must vote to put the amendment into the constitution.

There are now 25 dry states according to Senate leaders. The drys will have to get 11 more states in the six years. If the wets can hold 13 states, one more than 1-4, the amendment will be lost. The decision to vote so soon on the prohibition amendment is significant in view of an effort to have such an amendment cleared from the food bill—the Smoot amendment requesting President Wilson to purchase bonded liquors.

DEMORALIZED RUSSIA

While it is impossible not to take a pessimistic view of the Russian situation, it is easy to see how perfectly it reconciles itself to the philosophy of history. Revolutions, least of all our own, do not settle themselves in a few weeks, nor is stable government restored until the people have learnt that democracy also means obedience, even if it is that more spiritual obedience which is due to the common interest and the common liberty.

It may be years before a leadership emerges in Russia strong enough to unify the country in its old form; and it may be that a process of disintegration will set in among its many races which by no means logically involves future federalism. Germany had two lines of conquest open to her at the beginning of the war. One was toward the British Channel, involving Belgium and northern France, with a political dominance over Holland. The other was to the Euphrates Valley. The Russian revolutionists have provided her with a third objective, which is central and northern Russia. Unless these leaders can instill a different spirit into their armies, the path of conquest is wide open.

Socialism always falls down in this way because while it contemplates popular rule, each individual imagines that he has as good a right as anybody to be the ruler. He would probably not be a Socialist if he had learnt that before successful rulership is possible he must know how to obey. If this is true in a civil sense it is trebly true in a military sense. Obedience is the essence of military strength and the moment it fails, the military machine goes to pieces.

What happened in the regiments which turned tail in Galicia is easy to explain. Every man distrusted the man next to him and was afraid that he would run away. Least of all did he trust his officers, while every regiment feared that it would not be supported by the regiment on its flank. The demoralizing idea which this engenders is that the first to run will have the best of it. The result as we see was a retreat degenerating into a rout before an inferior force, and the elimination of the Russian offensive for this year's campaign at least.

All the training of the soldier is directed to making him see that it is incomparably safer to fight than to run away. When once this discipline is lost only reconstruction of an army and training from the beginning can restore it. The British did so in Egypt, "making riflemen from mud," and it took them years to do. The regeneration of the Russian army is a task for the greatest organizing genius the world ever saw, and there is no such genius in sight.—Wall Street Journal.

BEEKEEPERS ATTENTION

The Department of Agriculture thru the direction of Economic Zoologist J. G. Santer, has arranged to conduct a big round up meeting for beekeepers at the home of Mr. A. M. Applegate in Reynoldsville on Wednesday, August 1st.

The meeting will open at 10:30 a. m.

A good program is provided. Dr. E. F. Phillips, Washington, D. C., Mr. E. R. Root, Medina, Ohio and Prof. J. G. Santer and Prof. H. C. Klinger, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers' association, are expected to be present. Geo. H. Ren, Chief Apiary Advisor, Harrisburg, will have charge.

The Seven County Beekeepers' association will be organized and officers elected in the afternoon session.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS OPTIMISTIC ON RUSSIA

Washington, July 25.—The government and the Russian embassy today joined efforts in throwing a glow over the war situation. Members of President Wilson's cabinet including Secretary Baker and Redfield continued that the conditions on the western front in Europe were such as not to cause alarm or dismay in the United States. Redfield said that reports from army officers returning from France were most encouraging.

Are You Taking Advantage of It?

Have You Been In To Investigate The Wonderful Price Sacrifices That Have Been Made to Move Out This Elaborate Stock of Men's Summer Suits.

When you can make a saving of from $5 to $8 on a suit, it's a wonder you haven't been in long before this. In the near future prices are bound to go higher than they are at present and such savings as you can make during this mammoth July Clearance are worth even more than shows up on the face of them.

We have gathered the men's suits into four lots and placed price marks on them that are so far below the real values of the suits that it sounds too good to be true. The suits must go, however, and you can make the saving.

LOT NO. 1

Thirty young men's suits in different shades such as gray, brown and other colors of chevot. They are well made and are all wool. They are worth $12.00 but the Clearance price is $6.95

LOT NO. 2

Twenty-five suits in blue and novelty goods. These are very snappy styles. They are a $12 value marked for the Clearance at $9.00

LOT NO. 3

Young men's suits. Sizes 14 to 20 years in guaranteed all wool blue serge in the Norfolk style and some plain. These are a $15 value but marked for the Clearance sale at $12.00

LOT NO. 4

Men's suits guaranteed all wool serge in brown, blue, gray and black. Guaranteed to hold their color and wear wonderfully well. These are the famous "made in Philadelphia" suits. They are a $25 value going in the Clearance at $17.00

THERE WAS $20,000 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE THROWN INTO THIS JULY CLEARANCE SALE WHEN IT STARTED

And while we have sold an enormous amount there is still plenty of choice selections yet to be made. Especially have we made

DRASTIC REDUCTIONS IN SHOES

The way we sold them on the opening day of the sale was something out of the ordinary but when you take the difference between the regular price and the sale prices into consideration, it's a wonder we've any left.

I pay a debt I owe my Savings Account just as I do my grocer.
I've solved the problem of having a surplus, not because I get a large salary, but because I have made a habit of saving just as I do of eating or sleeping, so I feel confident over my future.
Barring accidents I will be independent within a few years and I am happy as I go along.

JAPAN READY TO REPLACE U. S. WARCRRAFT IN PACIFIC

Tokio, July 25.—By Mail.—Viscount Kikujiro, Japanese minister, and other Japanese, speaking authoritatively, have laid stress on the point that the forthcoming visit of the Ishii mission to the United States has no relation to the recent action of the American government in sending a note to China. The mission is purely connected with the operations of the war, it is explained.

The idea of the mission's creation came into being long before the incident over the American note, and negotiations concerning it were concluded before the note was made public. It is political questions concerning China and the far east generally are discussed with the Ishii mission at Washington they will arise incidentally. Viscount Ishii probably will submit to the Washington government Japan's willingness and readiness to substitute Japanese warships for the American naval force now in the Pacific ocean, including those making up the Asiatic fleet, with headquarters at Manila. The underlying idea is that Japan taking up the task of protecting American territory and interests in the Pacific the American fleet would be free for transfer to the Atlantic ocean where it would be more useful.

BENNY LEONARD FINISHES KILBANE IN THIRD ROUND

Benny Leonard clocked Johnny Kilbane's jaw almost from the handshake in their battle at Sibley park, and Kilbane fell a gory wreck in his corner as the bell rang for the ending of the third round.

A second previous Jimmy Dunn, the beaten man's manager, had tossed a Turkish towel into the padded ring as a symbol of surrender.

It was a clean-cut, decisive knockout conquest for the lightweight king, who again proved that a good man is better in a fight than a good little man, no matter how competent and pretty the latter may be.

There was a difference of eight pounds of fish in the two, and that margin helped win for Leonard, who last night made it clear that he was one of the most remarkable champions in ring history.

TWO HIGH SHOE SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

These two numbers are just a couple of the snappy ones in the stock and in these days of rising shoe costs, you will do well to drop in and see them.

One is a two-tone effect in black and white—black kid vamps with a poplin upper trimmed with kid foxing. Have spool heel and are just about the thing for the semi-formal occasions. They were marked to sell at $5 but as a Saturday-special they will go at $4.48

The other shoe is of gray canvas made over a last that is particularly strong on style lines. At a very short distance it is hard to tell that they are canvass, so close do they resemble gray kid. They have white enamel heels. Bought to sell at, and an exceptionally good value, $4 they are going out as a Saturday special at

A spirited young woman whose guardian is an entire trust company, to which she must render account of every expenditure, however small, is the part played by Dorothy Gish in the new Triangle-Fine Arts Photoplay "Her Official Fathers," which will be featured at the Tent Friday.

On one occasion the determined young lady engages in a hot argument with the bank's vice president concerning a pair of silk stockings which she claims to need desperately, though her wardrobe contains some twenty pairs to match each of her suits and gowns. Before gaining her demand she starts a run on the bank, alarming the passersby with her frantic shouts of "I want my money!"

Miss Gish wears bewitching clothes through the scenes that include her roguish activities at a boarding school her flirtatious beguilement of two greedy bank officials, both of whom she has promised to marry, and her denunciation of them on her eighteenth birthday, when she assumes charge of the fortune left by her father to the company's care.

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder.

where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; gain, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out,

just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
